

Dear Meredith,

RESCUED FROM SLAUGHTER 4:48 PM 11/21/05

Below is a photo of Ike in the feedlot with one of the Cber volunteers as she prepares to remove him from the lot...

In the photo below we see Ike being pulled for good from the feedlot... on his way to a loving, forever home (with a vet tech in Iowa and her family) where, after some months of training, Ike will have the opportunity to work with a few pasture/barn mates (including another mule) as a therapeutic riding mule for handicapped children. It doesn't get much better than this.

Many thanks for your help, Meredith, in this process. Ike's contact at Columbia Basin Equine Rescue said she was astounded by the great number of queries received from visitors to your website.

Thanks and regards,
D.G.
