

LUCKY THREE RANCH

Have an adventure at our state of the art working ranch! Everyone is welcome, whether you are a kid or just a kid at heart. We can accommodate tours from two guests to groups of 70. The ranch is handicap-accessible and we provide tour carts for our visitors who might not otherwise be able to make the trek around the property.

Our resident champions love having visitors. Meet our miniature horse, mules and donkeys – including the miniature donkeys, Spuds and Augie.

"Thank you so very much for an absolutely magical visit to the Lucky Three Ranch! Tricia, Ben and I haven't stopped talking about it with smiles on our faces." – Wendy I.

"Thank you for a wonderful day...Your passion for your work is contagious...You now have 45 new mule advocates!" – Kathy S.

Located 40 miles north of Denver, nestled near the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, Lucky Three Ranch is a 127-acre working ranch and hay farm that is also home to internationally recognized trainer, Meredith Hodges, and her champion equines.

Founded in 1980, as a mule breeding and training facility, the names Meredith Hodges and Lucky Three Ranch have become synonymous with excellence after producing many world-class equine athletes. Today, the ranch is known as a haven for the promotion of mules and donkeys, a center of education and the birthplace of Meredith's groundbreaking training philosophy.

Tours are available Monday through Friday by appointment only, and all tours begin at 10:00 AM. The tour season runs from January through October. Discounted pricing available for groups of 25 or more.
